

ARTIST STATEMENT

Susan Badger: "Awash"

This watercolor was painted as an expression of grief and loss, as for me the flow of rain can symbolize tears. However, as our climate continues to change, and as the trees on our wooded land have suffered in recent years from a lack of rain, this painting has also come to symbolize the need for replenishment and balance.